Enduring design

The exquisite designs never restrict; rather, they constantly inspire. This discreet elegance sets the food and your culinary inventiveness as the star. Best of all, its inspiring beauty is made for the intensity of high-volume use. From fine dining, to room service, lobby, bar lounge or events – product looks and performs equally brilliant in any setting.

Strict Quality Control

We practice strict quality control protocols throughout the production process. Handled by a dedicated inspection department with experience ranging from five to ten years, they conduct continuous product testing and send products to third-party labs for test reports upon request.

Highlights in Manufacturing

Take a first-hand look at how creates porcelain tableware, from the raw material processing to firing the completed products.

Crushing the Raw Materials

Using powerful crushers and mills, the carefully selected raw materials are ground several times to achieve the perfect consistency.

Cleaning & Mixing

The crushed materials pass through a series of screens and filters, then mixed with water to create the slurry for the tableware.

Forming the Body

Depending on the tableware type we're making, we use one of four forming methods, including soft plastic forming, stiff plastic forming, pressing, and slip casting.

Bisque-firing

Once the tableware is formed, they are heated at a lower temperature to remove potential contaminants and reduce possible shrinkage when fired.

Glazing

Before firing the porcelain tableware, we place a glaze covering on each to provide a distinct finish.

Firing

Our porcelain tableware enters the kiln and is baked at 1320°C, improving the hardness and increasing the service life of the completed product.
